

Bruno Latour
Gaia
Intrudes
Mon. Sep 22
Pulitzer Hall
Gaia Global
Circus
Tue. Sep 23-
Thu. Sep 25
The Kitchen

Gaia Intrudes is a public lecture by Bruno Latour to be held on September 22 at 5:30pm on Fernald Lawn in front of Pulitzer Hall at Columbia University, 2950 Broadway (between W 115th and 116th streets).

In case of rain, the event will be held in the Lecture Hall on the third floor of Pulitzer Hall.

The event is free and open to the public, but RSVP at bruno.brown.columbia.edu

Gaia Global Circus is a project by Bruno Latour, a play by Pierre Daubigny, directed by Frédérique Ait-Touati and Chloé Latour. Compagnie Accen T and Soif Compagnie with Claire Astruc, Luigi Cerri, Jade Collinet and Matthieu Protin.

Gaia Global Circus will be performed on September 23 for Columbia students and faculty and on September 24 and 25 for the general public at 8pm at The Kitchen, 512 W 19th Street, NYC.

Tickets are available at thekitchen.org

THE BROWN INSTITUTE
FOR MEDIA INNOVATION

